

Round Rock Ad Agency Announces New Hires

Austin Business Journal – February 1, 2009

Angela Crowder

has joined PGC, a full-service marketing, advertising and PR firm, as Executive Assistant. Utilizing her enthusiasm and experience as an Account Executive at the Texas Computer Education Association (TCEA), Crowder is the new PGC point-of-contact for internal communications and logistics.

Jack Jones

is providing innovative creative solutions as PGC's Creative Director. As a seasoned designer and consultant for several well-known Austin-based agencies, Jones is bringing over 20 years of expertise to several PGC accounts including Pok-e-Jo's Smokehouse and Moman Architects.

Mendy Seegar

brings over 15 years of business development experience as the new Account Executive for PGC. Strategic planning, result-oriented marketing plans and relationship management are qualities Seegar brings to the PGC team and their extensive list of national clients.
